

Africa Energy Indaba to Once Again Host the Africa Gas Forum

Cape Town, South Africa – 11 January 2024 – Building on its longstanding commitment to fostering comprehensive energy dialogue and collaboration, the Africa Energy Indaba, Africa's leading energy event, is delighted to announce the return of the highly anticipated Africa Gas Forum. The Africa Gas Forum will bring together key stakeholders, industry experts, policymakers, and investors to explore the vast potential of Africa's gas sector.

Key Highlights of the Africa Gas Forum include:

Strategic Dialogues: The Africa Gas Forum will feature strategic dialogues, panel discussions, and interactive sessions focusing on the latest trends, developments, opportunities, and challenges in Africa's gas sector. Participants will gain insights into policy frameworks, regulatory reforms, market dynamics, and investment opportunities shaping the continent's gas landscape.

Gas-to-Power Initiatives: With a growing emphasis on leveraging gas resources for power generation, the forum will explore gas-to-power initiatives, projects, and technologies driving Africa's energy transition. Participants will discuss innovative solutions, best practices, and case studies showcasing successful gas-to-power projects across the continent.

Infrastructure Development: The forum will highlight infrastructure development, pipeline projects, liquefied natural gas (LNG) terminals, and transportation networks facilitating the monetisation, distribution, and export of Africa's abundant gas resources. Participants will explore investment opportunities, financing mechanisms, and partnership models to accelerate infrastructure development and integration within regional and global markets.
